BUMBLE

BEES

FLOWER FORAGE

in Eastern Washington shrub steppe.

WILDFLOWER FORAGE IS AVAILABLE IN DIFFERENT PLACES IN SPACE AND TIME. THE ABUNDANCE

AND DIVERSITY OF

NATIVE WILDFLOWER

FORAGE IS CRUCIAL

TO SUPPORTING

YOUR LOCAL

POLLINATORS

Mertensia grandiflora Douglas' Brodiaea

Delphinium nuttallinum Upland Larkspur

Zigadenus venenosus

Meadow Death Camas

Lithospermum ruderale Columbia Puccoon

Arabis holboellii

THE WELLBEING OF OUR POLLINATORS IS ONE OF OUR MOST PRESSING ISSUES IN LAND STEWARDSHIP. IT IS VITALLY IMPORTANT TO KEEP OUR PUBLIC LANDS BLOOMING.

Holboell's Rockcress

ENDEMIC

Wavyleaf Microseris

Centaurea diffusa

Diffuse Knapweed

Bluebells

Ribes cereum Wax Currant Mertensia longifloria

Add a little bit of body text Sisymbrium altissimun Tall Tumblemustard

Erigeron fillifolius

Threadleaf Daisy

Lomatium nudicale Barestem Biscuitroot

Amsinckia lycopsoides

Amelanchier alnifolia Western Serviceberry

Phlox longifolia

Long-leaf Phlox

Ranunculus glaberrimus Sagebrush Buttercup

Hydrophyllum capitatum

Ballhead Waterleaf

*introduced

Convolvulus arvensis Field Bindweed

Lithohragma parviflorum Bulbous Prairie-star

Bugloss Fiddleneck

THE SEASON TO PROVISION

POLLINATION NEXT SPRING.

THIS IS A SMALL SAMPLE OF

HER NEST AND RAISE

OFFSPRING WHO WILL RESUME

Balsamorhiza sagittata Arrowleaf Balsamroot

Castilleja thompsonii Thompson's Paintbrush

Lupines

Kellie Allen

2017